GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on non-riparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. After the formation of the California Water Commission back on December 19, 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriative rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 with specific exceptions. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversions, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include: (1) Statements of Water Diversion and Use, (2) Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California, and (3) Appropriation of Water in California.

In response to your request, we are hereby filing the Statements of Water Diversion and Use for the 1993-1995 reporting years. You will find the enclosed following surface water diversion sources in this submittal:

Statement Number

S000355

S000354

S000351

S000352

Source Name

Fox Creek

Alder Creek

Jameson Lake

Doulton Tunnel

It should be noted that the Alder Creek source diverts water directly into Jameson Lake. The Alder Creek diversion was suspended in January 1995 when the diversion inlet structure was partially destroyed by heavy rains. The Jameson Lake diversion, as reported, includes water from the Alder Creek diversion as well as the other direct tributaries to the Lake. Regarding the District's right to divert water from these sources, please refer to our correspondence dated June 29, 1994 to your agency sent along with the 1991 to 1993 statement. The District also wishes to inform you that the completion and favorable ruling of the Jordan water rights lawsuit against the Montecito Water District and the City of Santa Barbara in 1996 upholds the earlier Gin Chow court judgement authorizing the diversion of water from the Santa Ynez River and its tributaries, Fox and Alder Creeks.

The other diversion source requested by your Department, San Ysidro Creek, S000353, is not being submitted and was abandoned many years ago by the District.

If you have any questions regarding the above, please contact me at (805) 969-2271.

Very truly yours,
